Two-Day Training Program

Rational Decision Making: Strategies & Techniques

(Exclusively for Officers of Indian Forests Service)

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

SHRI MATA VAISHNO DEVI UNIVERSITY

VENUE: MATRIKA AUDITORIUM

DATE: November 28-29, 2019

Two-day training Program on 'Rational Decision Making: Strategies & Techniques' for IFS is going to be organized at School of Business, Shri Mata Vaishno Devi University during November 28-29, 2019 with financial support from Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change, Government of India. This interactive training program aims to provide insight regarding a variety of creative problem solving and decision making tools and techniques. Officers will learn to analyze problems, generate creative solutions, and decide which solution most closely matches their needs and organization requirements. In addition to the numerous activities and exercises throughout the training where officers get to practice the different tools and techniques learned, they will also apply the learning and their problem solving skills on interesting real time case studies. Within the robust decision making framework, officers will also learn how to 'sell' the decision and communicate it effectively, and how to monitor the decision taken to ensure that it remains on track and successful. The Two days Training programme is planned exclusively for those IFS officers whose name appears in the list of trainees provided by sponsoring ministry for this event.
